WITHOUT LOVE!

Words & Music by Dennis A. Westgate

Welcome to my latest song album!

In my last stage musical 'Closed Circuit' a story about the internal workings of a standard business computer. There's a point where one of the main characters 'Ariel' has gone off-line and is free to integrate with some of the other computer components.

Ariel has spent all of her time in the mail-room and all her knowledge of life outside these confines is only attributed to what has been gleaned from any incoming messages, the majority of which are taken up with the everyday running of the business.

However, one particular communication between David, (one of the office staff), and his fiance 'Claire' is of a more personal nature. These tete-a-tete's have become the highlight of Ariel's day and she takes great delight in reading their letters, but the frequent use of the 'love' word prompts her to know its meaning.

This is an expression for which she has no knowledge or explanation so when allowed to leave her post and meet other departmental workers, she uses the opportunity to find the answer, which is supplied by 'Beat-Box' (the manager of the music library) in a song called 'Looking for Love' (what else?)

You'll find 'Looking for Love' on page 33 of this album along with several other songs from some of my other stage musicals. In this songbook I've chosen just a few variations on the theme of this complex emotion. I'm sure most of you will agree "Tis better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all."

WITHOUT LOVE

WITHOUT LOVE

Love is all and all is love
 And love is all I have to give
 So if you ever say goodbye
 Then my heart will surely die
 Life is nothing without love
 No nothing without love

Love is all no more no less
 And loving you is happiness
 But if you turn to go away
 Then remember all I say
 Life is nothing without love
 Nothing without love
 No nothing without love my love

I can't lose the loving feeling
 Wrapped around this heart
 Some day it will surely fade and die
 Maybe one day it will only be
 A passing dream
 Maybe there will come a time
 I won't wonder why

Love is all for love is true
 And all my love I gave to you
 So when I smile to mask the tears
 I'll remember through the years.
 Life is nothing without love
 You'll have nothing without love
 No nothing without love, my love
